By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)Republican chiefs are said to have "sidetracked" the naval construction program of $74,000,000 to avoid discussion and risk of a special session.The program would have provided one aircraft carrier, to cost, including armor, ammunition and 114 airplanes, $27,500,000; also one flying-deck day cruiser, with 36 airplanes, costing $50,700,000; four submarines costing $17,600,000, and 130 planes for $5,000,000, plus $3,000,000 for experimenting with Diesel engines.All this would have been strictly up to date defense, but it is abandoned to save the country from another session of its legislators.On the other hand your wise gentlemen actually propose to spend $30,000,000 to "modernize" three old battleships, New Mexico, Mississippi, and Idaho.And when they are modernized
they will simply be nothing but targets for bombing planes and presented strutting-decks for naval officers too old to accept a new idea.Sometimes consumptive patients have bright pink spots on either cheek, deceitful, telling of hope not to be fulfilled.Yesterday, Wall Street had a bright pink spot on each cheek, and looked remarkably well. Prices were up from 2 to 15 dollars a share.
Brokers bought and sold more than 4,000,000, nearly four times as many as on the same day of the previous week.Hope springs eternal in the stock market, but nobody knows whether this is the pink spot of health, or gnawing financial tuberculosis.In connection with Russia's plan to conscript women for industry, government taking care of the babies
while their mothers are at work, you read that this is done because of the "present serious shortage of labor in Russia." You wish we had that shortage here and wonder how the Russians manage it.Russia's plan to open gigantic government nurseries to care for babies, while mothers are working in mills, forests, fields, mines, or factories, will present problems that not even Stalin can foresee. Separating women from their babies may be a dangerous experiment, even in Russia.It is pleasant to hear of anyone's happiness and you will be delighted to know that Ireland is highly prosperous, "riding the wave of world depression." In 1930 the Irish exported more than $225,000,000 of goods, which is better than merely shipping money to British landlords. Irish banks are steady, the Irish Free State budget is sound.
Those that use to say "the Irish can govern anybody but themselves"
may have been mistaken.They can also govern themselves, if you get off their backs.On Thursday listeners between 10 a. m. and noon, eastern standard time, may hear Pope Pius on the radio, and also Marconi, "father of wireless." The pope will speak briefly in Latin, his message translated in English and, perhaps, other languages, by the announcer. Later there will be broadcast a formal slain in obeying the command, and three men started firing. A moment later they fled from the smoke-filled place.Child Labor Bill

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—The federal child labor amendment, turned down by the Ohio legislature six years ago, was again before the assembly for ratification today. Approval was proposed, last night, by Senator James A. Reynolds, (D), of Cleveland.The federal amendment first was proposed to the Ohio assembly for ratification in 1925.The child labor amendment and the Bible bill furnished the "fireworks" of the 1925 legislative session, but both were defeated. The amendment came to vote only in the house where ratification received only 34 votes to 91 against.
It never came to a vote in the sen-

Gives Talk; Evap-
orator DiscussedLauding the efforts of his organ-

and discussing prospects for the future, C. C. Gibson, president of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, last night addressed 100 members of the Mullins group at a meeting in the Memorial building."Barnacles Are Off" Expressing his confidence in the ability of Mullins employees and Mullins developments which are expected to provide considerable diversification in plant products, Gibson asserted that "the barnacles are off the bottom and when the real race begins the ship will be ready."The session was called primarily for a discussion of the new evaporator which will be produced by the corporation. Various phases of its development were discussed by G. F. Keyes, who told of the "History of Mullins Evaporators," Clifford Reeves, "Patent Phases," Edward Erickson and Harold Benson,
"Engineering Problems," G. Mc-Andrew, "Production Problems,"
J. R. Burt, "Enameling Problems," M. P. Booth, "Sales, Orders and Prospects."President Gibson, however, not only commented on the evaporator but also other operations of the corporation, including wash tubs, radiator covers, metal metal products and boats.Sea Eagle Is Hit
The "Sea Eagle," a Mullins boat, was, Gibson declared, distinctly the
"hit" of the New York boat show.
The production of boats will be an outstanding activity at Mullins this year.James R. Kesselmeire, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting.Congress Tense
On Aid Proposals(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Tension was increasing in congress today over veterans' aid proposals,
with the Republican leaders doing their utmost to avert any controversial strings.They maintained that some plan
—a "safe and sane" one, in the words of Speaker Longworth—would be brought forth. All factions, including the numerous advocates of paying off compensation certificates at their face value,
waited to see what the house ways
and means committee would report.
The general expectation was that the group would recommend a $500-600,000 increase in loans against the certificates. This plan has received strong support, although the treasury has withheld an endorsement.

ium Of Revival BuildingLISBON, Feb. 10.—Clyde B. J.
W. Smith had been returned to Morse of Pittsburgh, Pa., an evangelist who assisted Billy Sunday during an evangelistic campaign at East Liverpool in the fall of 1928, in a suit for $3,000 damages against George L. Brokaw and others of East Liverpool, caused testimony to be introduced during the trial of the case in common pleas court No.
2 Monday afternoon naming members of an athletic association that took over the tabernacle for sport
purposes.Names Revealed
A motion filed in this cause previously asking for the names of the members of the group, was sustained, but at that time only five names were presented in answer.
Testimony Monday afternoon not only disclosed a list of members but also that money that had been contributed by Harry Altman andJ. W. Smith had been returned to them after the tabernacle was razed.It was also shown that the board of directors consisted of George L.
Brokaw, Clyde B. Morse, O. E.
Greenawalt, Albert Crawford and Richard Brian Brokaw was president of the group and Greenawalt was secretary-treasurer.Morse, following the Billy Sunday campaign, took an option on the frame tabernacle which he intended to raze after the athletic association had finished its basketball season. He was to pay $1,000 for it, and take it elsewhere for evangelistic purposes. The building was wrecked and sold to other interests, and the option of Morse was not then considered.Asks $3,000 Damages Suit was filed by Morse for the return of $500 that he had paid on his option and $3,000 damages.The court has taken the case under advisement.Testimony was also introduced at this trial showing the following to be identified with the athletic group: Smith Davis, Louis Hune, George and Dick Brian, Pete Milliron, Harry Altman, Josiah D.
Thompson, W. Frank Lunsford, Robert H. Summers, M. W. Thompson,
Sam Caplin, Edwin Wells Jr., J. M.
Wells, Leonard Webber, Albert
Crawford, J. E. Gamble & Co., Paul
F. Hune, R. H. Unger, O. E. Green-awalt.Brokaw as defendant in this case was represented by Attorneys W. S.
Stevenson and Charles Boyd, while Morse was represented by Attorneys Walter B. Hill of East Liverpool and Charles C. Connel.Suggests Settlement
After testimony was finished, Atty. Connel suggested that the court hold the matter in abeyance
for a few days, believing it possible a settlement might be made out of court. This was not looked with favor on by defense counsel, and the suggestion was withdrawn.The court informed Brokaw as defendant, that if a judgment
should be rendered against him,
that he would have redress in collecting from his associates, but as they were not in court, that no judgment could be entered against them.When it was suggested that all members should have been made parties defendant in the suit, it was explained that these were not known when the action was filed, and that not until a motion was filed later, that any names came to light, in addition to those names mentioned
during the testimony Monday.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 10.—An Ohio State university instructor was burned seriously and three students were overcome by fumes today when a five pound bottle of liquor Bromine exploded in the chemistry laboratory.

Burned As Bottle Drops

Clarence Bremer, graduate assistant in chemistry, was burned on the legs and hands when he dropped the bottle. The students who were overcome were Miss Ruth Dwyer, Leo Gennung and Claude Schmitt, all of Columbus. The four were taken to a hospital.More than 400 students in the chemistry building were forced to flee to the open air when the fumes filtered through the structure.
Chemists said the fumes somewhat resembled the death dealing gases which swept through the Cleveland clinic in the disaster there.
The same type of gas fumes were used during the World war, it was added, and while not instantly fatal,
often resulted in bronchial pneumonia.

Chaos Reigns on Campus

Chaos reigned on the campus as the fleeing students scattered. And as ambulances from the nearby university hospital sped to the chemistry building.Doctors termed Bremer's injuries severe and dangerous.Experts said several hours would be required to make the structure safe for occupancy. Contra-actives to the gas were being spread through the building soon after the gas filled
it.DEMING FOREMEN

spoke on the subject, "Soup For

why many workers fail to progress.
He explained that man's failure to think things out for himself and his habitual routine existence were main factors in making life uninteresting.About 40 members of the plant's

A CLOSED INCIDENT

The state department is satisfied. Italy is satisfied. Major General Smedley D. Butler likely is satisfied. There will be no court martial proceedings against him for the incident which prompted the Italian embassy to demand an apology from this country a few days ago.

Added to the satisfaction of the principals is that of the public, which has felt from the beginning of the episode that it was too bad a courageous fighting man should be obliged to go on the stand for an unintentional and relatively unimportant offense. General Butler, assured that his second-hand story about Mussolini would not be reported as at the worst no more than indiscreet. A court martial was strong corrective medicine.

Almost as pleasing as the consideration given General Butler is the assurance that the unpleasantness usually attendant upon a court martial will be avoided. The story concerning Premier Mussolini told by General Butler might have been heavily shaded by statements on the same subject in a court martial. International relations between the United States and Italy would not have been improved.

Secretary of the Navy Adams, in closing the episode, has maintained what appears to be a proper balance. All parties are satisfied.

What Others Say

A SENATOR TRANSLATED

Marvels will never cease. Natural history does not tell us how a gadfly can suddenly be changed into a dove. But Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, showed on Monday that the thing can be done. He flapped on conciliatory and peaceful wings all around the senate chamber. He paid a warm tribute to Senator Borah, but at the same time praised these when the Idaho senator had been eloquently denouncing. He made the air seem to be saturated with good feeling. A compromise in the dispute between the President and the senate would soon be arranged, the veterans bill would be gently laid aside, there would be no special session of the new congress, and righteousness and peace would kiss each other on every street corner in Washington. Such a transformation must seem little short of miraculous in the eyes of those who remember that for years Senator Harrison has shown his chief delight to be in fault-finding, nagging, taunting, challenging, gloating and defying.

A probable explanation leaps to the mind of every observer of this extraordinary conversion. Outside pressure must have been applied to Senator Harrison. Left to himself he could hardly have suffered such a sea-change. No one who reads the Democratic newspapers throughout the country, or who knows what Democrats of substance are thinking and saying today, can fail to have noted the rising sense of alarm lest their party representatives in the senate made fools of themselves and throw away their fine political chances. Something of this feeling must have been conveyed in some forcible way to Mr. Harrison, as assistant, or frequently as volunteer, leader of his party in the senate. The result, however brought about, is a sign of returning political sanity and as such must be welcomed. If only other Democratic senators would burst out from the chrysalis in the engaging butterfly guise of Senator Harrison!—New York Times.

(Issue of Feb. 10, 1911.)

Dr. Eliza Blackburn, who had charge of a boys' athletic club in Cleveland for a few years, is interesting himself in the movement to organize an athletic club in Salem.

The Physicians club met Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. T. T. Church, Lincoln avenue. Dr. Alex. Cruikshank read the paper.

Twelve Salem residents made application for their first papers of naturalization today.

Miss Myrtle Allen, of this city, who is attending the Friends Bible Training school in Cleveland, has been ill for a few days. Thursday morning relatives were advised that she is improving.

NEW YORK

Day by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Recently my wife and I made a brief sentimental journey to Cincinnati, the city from whence we came to New York twenty years ago. We stopped at the Simon where we spent our three day honeymoon, revisited scenes we knew well, mingled with old friends.

So many things happen to a people and a city in a span of twenty years. Where once the Emory Arcade with its jinkle-jumble of cubicle shops sliced through a block there stands a 50-story storied campanile housing two huge department stores, a mammoth hotel and myriad lesser enterprises.

The sluggish canal whose net-work of foot-bridges led to that beer-sipping Elysium, known as Over-the-Rhine, has flowered into a sweeping boulevard spinning with motor traffic. Only Jimmy Widemeyer remains, Jimmy, the "millionaire newsboy," who sings of disaster on a Fountain Square corner!

Cincinnati is a boss ridden city that threw off its yoke and has, so it seems to me, taken its place in the sun and deservedly won the right to its middle-west sobriquet—the Queen City. It is hallowed for me with tender sentimentalities.

There I went as awide-eyed, gar-mouthed country boy agape with a look bewilderment. There as a $30 a week obscurity on the outer rim of the copy desk I led my small town sweetheart to the altar. There I found some of the thirdest most loyal friendships I have ever known.

Cincinnati has a warm hospitable charm seeping doubtless across the shimmering Ohio from the blue-grassed delis of Ole Kaintuck, stretching so peacefully and pleasantly on yonder side of the river. People appear so glad to see you that you go about with a queer little choke.

Most of the joyous, care-free gazetteers I know are steadily by raw realities. Many heads are lashed with snows of passing winters. There came sudden lulls when our eyes brimmed and which we turned off with gusts of delicious laughter. Laughter through the teeth!

I have a pardonable pride in the rise of that old newspaper gang to eminence. There is that former rollicking flaneur, Russ Wilson—he of the gaudy straw hat bands—now the austere and honorable Russell Wilson, Mayor of Cincinnati and headed for the U. S. Senate. Frank Rosstock, erstwhile sporting editor who gnashed his teeth and tore up telephone books when the Reds lost, now president and editor of the amazing ly successful paper on which we worked. Alfred Segal, whose ringing editorials have overthrown local corrupt governments but prefers to be known as a reporter. So many more—Roy Howard, Ray Long, Phil Simms, Bill Kramer, H. T. Webster, H. W. Brown, Bob Brinkerhoff, Bill Culkins, Eugene Walter, Marlen E. Pew, Ren Malford, Jr., Milton Brenner. And so on and on.

At the Simon, John Horgan, the resplendent day clerk in my time and now general manager and even more resplendent, touched off my vanity by having a silver engraved plate tacked to the door of the suite reading: "This suite is occupied by O. O. McIntyre." Above a similar plate honored Admiral Byrd. Some one observed to Lloyd School, one of our gang and now energetic manager of the local Western Union: "Two birds in the one cage?"

"Yeah," replied Scholl, "an eagle and a cuckoo!"

Edgar Guest, Detroit poet, happened to be in town and accompanied me to a haunt of our old newspaper crew. It was my first appearance in years and the reception, if I do say it, was enthusiastic. There were embraces, shouts and back slaps. On way back to our hotel Eddie remarked: "People can't be that glad to see anyone." There's a genuine poet for you!

The only sad note to my trip was that due to my short stay I did not get around to the balcony of my old cronies of the composing room—Eddie Craig, Paul Breddon, Riggs, Curry and others. They saved me from many breakfastless Monday mornings.

I confess the conceit over my reception was slightly punctured at the depot homeward bound. In the waiting room a beautiful lady rushed up, kissed me, pinned a rose to my lapel and exclaimed: "I think you are wonderful, Heywood Brown!"

The Stars Say
For Wednesday, February 11
An eventful and important day is presaged from the predominant lunar and mutual configurations. Uranus is strong in both aspects, forecasting a sudden change of far-reaching influence, probably bringing radical upheaval in the affairs, plans and environment. This inviting opportunity follows close upon the breaking up of long-congested conditions, making way for constructive and practical effort as well as desired experimentation.

There may be fresh contacts and alliances, but also there is danger of dispute and contention. Personal relations may develop along singular lines.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of sudden change.

HEALTH

PARALYSIS IN ADULTS

Those who remember the infantile paralysis epidemic of 1916 are naturally alarmed when they hear rumors that this dread disease is once more prevalent. Official figures show, however, that the number of cases so far this year, although greater than for the corresponding period last year, is not abnormally large.

Every year in June or July cases of this disease become more numerous, continuing to increase in frequency until the latter part of September or early October. From that time on, it subsides rapidly and remains at a low level until the next Summer.

Recovery Chances Better
What makes the disease especially feared by the parents of young children, is the fact that it is so often followed by deformity. There is comfort in knowing that the actual number of cases in proportion to the population is small.

Infantile paralysis does not attack children only. The name would suggest this. It is more common among children, and more fatal among the younger children, but it attacks adults too.

It is an inflammation of the spinal cord which may go to the extent of destroying nerve cells. When this happens it is likely to cause paralysis, although this complication does not always follow.

The epidemic of 1916 had the effect of stimulating research into the cause and treatment of infantile paralysis. In consequence, today the chances of complete recovery are much better than ever before.

If the disease is recognized early enough, the use of serum from the blood of persons who have recovered often proves beneficial. In any event, it is essential for effective treatment that every case should receive prompt diagnosis and care.

Isolate Patient
To restore crippled limbs and usefulness and prevent permanent deformity after an attack of this disease, a careful system of exercising must be pursued. Ordinarily this work is best done in the patient's own home by the parents. Trained supervision is necessary of course, as too early or too strenuous efforts may do more harm than good. But the patience and loving care of members of the child's family are invaluable in carrying on the routine. It is remarkable what good results even in cases of long standing, may be obtained from patient manipulation and exercise of affected muscles.

It seems to be well demonstrated that the disease is spread by people rather than by things. Children should be kept away from persons who are in contact with patients, as well as from the patients themselves.

Famous Fashion King Becomes Author

Paul Poiret, Who Climbed the Ladder of Fame from Umbrella Maker to Fashion Creator, Tells How He Snubbed Baroness and Staged a Mannequin Parade in the Official Home of British Premier.

NEW YORK—Even queens have fallen for the testimonial idea. In a nice, quiet, dignified way, of course, but although it isn't in writing it's an endorsement just the same. This has just been revealed by Paul Poiret the famous French fashion king who has just turned author. His book entitled, "Dressing This Generation," is a graphic account of Continental society that will interest every woman and almost every man. For Poiret deals in celebrities just as much as in clothes. And he has had ample opportunity to study the foibles and whims of the great of this earth. But to get back to queens and testimonials.

A Royal Catch
Poiret tells that when a Parisian couturier feels that his atelier has turned out a real work of art—an inspiration—he sends it to one of Europe's reigning queens. And as the dress is generally meant for a beautiful woman, the list of queens who receive these frocks is necessarily restricted. With the frock goes a respectful note personally written by the designer, begging the fair recipient to wear it as especially designed tribute to her beauty and charm. It never fails. And the least that the queen can do is to permit herself to be photographed in the gorgeous gown. And then every woman wants a copy of it, and the subtle testimonial has been successful.

Tea and Mannequins
Poiret recalls the storm, in a thimble that was the talk of London during the Asquith tenancy of No. 10 Downing Street. Margot Asquith—one of London's most enterprising hostesses, crossed the Channel to ask Poiret to bring his Spring collection, beautiful gowns, lovely mannequins and all, to No. 10. He was pleased to go, and the tea was a huge success. For once men were much in evidence at an afternoon affair, and statesmanlike dukes and princes remained all the afternoon to sip tea and gaze at the clothes but at the beautiful mannequins. Then came the dawn and the storm. Poiret was deluged by cameramen, who begged him to allow them to photograph the lovely model in the latest Poiret lingerie. It was done, and newspaper headlines screamed about "Semi-nude mannequins in the Empire Council Room." Queens were asked in the House of Commons, the London Times was bedegged with letters from "Indignant Readers," and Herbert Asquith spent a miserable few weeks until the storm abated. Margot Asquith has never since visited the Poiret establishment.

THE HOME KITCHEN

—By Jeannette Young Norton—

Egg Sauce Without a Curdle
Color is what makes egg sauce preferable to the ordinary white sauce, although you can pep it up with pungent seasonings if desired. As a dressing for mild foods, like the root vegetables, or cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, asparagus, to accompany light flavored fish, an egg sauce is both attractive and appetizing.

Egg sauce can be prepared either with raw or hard-cooked eggs.

Egg Sauce (I)
2 tablespoons butter,
2 tablespoons flour,
1 green pepper,
2 yolks of hard-boiled eggs,
1 cup bouillon,
1 teaspoon salt.

Melt the butter in a saucepan, add the chopped green pepper, cook a moment, then add the flour, mixing well, then gradually the liquid. When smooth and creamy, add the chopped egg yolks and seasoning; rub well into the sauce, and remove from the fire.

In preparing egg sauce with milk care must be taken not to let the milk boil. And if raw eggs are used, they should be added after removing the sauce from the fire not cooked with it.

Plain Egg Sauce
2 tablespoons butter,
2 tablespoons flour,
3 cups milk,
2 eggs,
1/2 teaspoon salt.

Melt the butter in a saucepan, rub in the flour and cook until light brown, add milk gradually, stirring well. When thick, remove from fire and add beaten eggs.

Lemon Egg Sauce
After removing plain egg sauce from fire, add 3 tablespoons lemon juice, some grated lemon rind and beaten egg yolks.

Make system alkaline to ... Stop Colds QUICK!

Get Rid of Colds Before They Weaken You, Make You Liable to More Serious Troubles.

Nowadays it's important to stop your cold quick before it weakens your resistance to more serious trouble.

Any of the older treatments will bring relief—after a time. But thousands say this new way is the quickest of any.

Begin when you feel a cold coming. Take a tablespoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water, morning, noon, and night, the first day. Do same the second day. Then only at night. Colds reduce the alkaline balance of your system. That makes you feel achy, feverish, weak. Phillips Milk of Magnesia relieves this, and restores the alkaline balance.

Doctors prescribe Phillips Milk of Magnesia; hospitals use it. Millions know how it relieves sour stomachs, gas, indigestion, constipation and other symptoms of too much acid. Get the genuine.

SOLDIER, MINER LIVED COLORFUL, DANGEROUS LIFE

Death Ends Varied Career Of Denver Resident; Was 81 Years Old

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 10.—A romantic career of adventure on three continents came to a close recently with the death at Idlewild, near here, of Hans Henry Preeg, 81, Bavarian baron and army officer, Indian fighter, pioneer and gold miner.

Preeg's life story reads like the work of some imaginative writer of adventure plots. Born into an aristocratic Bavarian family, Preeg had before him a brilliant career as an army officer.

Unjustly Accused of Crime

Accused unjustly of a crime, Preeg left his native country and came to the wilds of Colorado in the early '70s. Here he struck out into the most isolated region of the Rocky Mountains, where unassisted he built a log house and mined for gold.

When the man who committed the crime of which Preeg had been accused confessed, Preeg refused to return to Bavaria, but continued to live in Colorado. He made many friends among the Indians and pioneer miners who then inhabited the mountains.

Following the Meeker massacre he served 45 days as a scout and rendered valuable service to United States troops because of his intimate knowledge of the mountains and the Ute Indians.

Sells Mine Interests

Later he sold his mining interests in Colorado and migrated to Alaska during the gold rush. From there he went to South Africa, returning to Colorado to continue his gold mining in his adopted state. For a time he was associated with the late Winfield Scott Stratton of Colorado Springs, who made millions from his gold strikes in the Cripple Creek region.

During the World War Preeg lost seven sons in the German army. He was intensely loyal to his adopted country, however, purchasing Liberty bonds and in many other ways demonstrating his patriotism.

In recent years much of Preeg's once-extensive mining properties had slipped through his hands, some of it being sold for taxes. In his last years he found himself in actual want, but refused to accept charity. Friends were attempting to obtain a pension from the government for the services Preeg rendered as a scout. Negotiations were under way at the time of his death.

WOMAN TO SEEK ALTITUDE MARK

Superintends Job Of Designing Electric Heating System

AKRON, Feb. 10.—While waiting for the completion of the specially built straight-wing Waco plane in which she will attempt to establish a new altitude record for women, Miss Frankie G. Renner, secretary of the Robbins Flying Service, is superintending the designing of an electric heating system never before tried out by a high flyer.

Akron's well known woman pilot has arranged with an electrician to make her an outfit of individual heating pads that can be switched on and off when necessary.

Instead of the customary electrically heated flying suit, she expects to wear when soaring above Stow Field near Akron, individual electric heating pads in her suit, mittens and meowsies, each of which can be controlled by a separate switch, she said Monday.

The cockpit of her Waco plane will be lined with heavy felt for extra insulation. This will give her the appearance of being bundled in an oversized sleeping bag, she says.

Goggles To Be Heated

Electrically heated goggles will protect her eyeballs from freezing, a fate suffered in 1921 by Schroder when he then set a new altitude record, which Miss Renner has almost succeeded in duplicating without the aid of oxygen.

On her next attempt to shatter the women's altitude record Miss Renner will be equipped with a new type of liquid oxygen protected against freezing.

February is the most favorable month of the year to try for altitude, Miss Renner declares in speaking of her ambition to bring additional flying honors to Akron.

MARKETS PROFIT TAKING HITS BULL MOVE

Upward Pace Slackens As Traders Realize On Their Profits

(By Associated Press)

New York, Feb. 10.—Another active bullish demonstration gave way to profit-taking on the stock exchange during the earlier trading today.

Prices mounted rapidly during the first half hour when leading shares extended yesterday's gains by a point or so but when the pace slackened traders began to realize on their profits and American Can, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, J. I. Case and General Motors, among others dipped fractionally under Monday's close.

Auburn Auto soared 16 1/2 to 191 and then lost about half the rise. Industrial Rayon was again buoyant, climbing more than 9. At their best prices International Business Machines, Eastman Kodak, R. H. Macy and Houston Oil were up 2 to 2 1/2 and there were extreme gains of 1 to 1 1/2 in U. S. Steel, New York Central, General Electric Westinghouse and North American.

Call money renewed at 1 1/2 per cent.

If you ever become well acquainted with a lady named Guillermina Guerrero, or one like her, don't trifle with her affections. Maximino Aeval did that, in Mexico City. Guillermina dressed herself as a boy, found faithless Maximino in another cabaret, dancing with another girl, followed, and shot them both.

An opera, like Cavalleria, or Pagliacci, represents no exaggeration. The Latin temperament feels everything, especially neglect.

strongly. Those that know say the affections are as violent as the jealousy. It must be an exciting life.

People in New York, greatest state in population, are too busy to add to population as they did once. The birth rate has fallen 30 per cent in 16 years. Birth control advocates say the state is getting "fewer and brighter babies," but that is not convincing.

To offset the decreased baby crop, the general death rate is at its lowest for all time. Of 1000 population, only 11.7 die in a year. Deaths from tuberculosis are diminishing steadily, thanks to science.

The Moderation League, Inc., makes a depressing report on prohibition. Drunkenness has increased, "remarkably," in states before 1920. Drinking among boys, girls and young people generally has increased steadily, the largest increase taking place among boys from 15 to 25 years of age.

In Washington, arrests for drunkenness are eight times as numerous as before prohibition started. Prohibition was "a noble experiment," but it is not yet working smoothly.

MRS. RAY L. PARRISH

Mrs. Ray L. Parrish, R. F. D. No. 3, Canton, Ohio says: "Nothing I can say can possibly tell you how thankful I am to Owa-Ton-Na. I suffered so severely from neuritis pains in my arm and shoulders that I had to give up my work. Now I am again well and happy. When I finally decided to try Owa-Ton-Na, I surely was in a badly run down condition but it didn't take this fine old Indian remedy long to rout these terrible poisons from my system."

"In just a short time my stomach was acting normally again, headaches and dizzy spells disappeared, my bowels acted regularly. Each day my kidneys showed wonderful improvement and then the pains started to leave me. Now I am back to work and can take care of it just as well as ever. Food digests properly, pains in my back and thighs are gone. Owa-Ton-Na certainly is a wonderful medicine and deserves no end of credit. I certainly deem it a pleasure to recommend such a fine medicine."

Time after time Owa-Ton-Na has brought results when methods generally employed have failed. Owa-Ton-Na's remarkable success has made it the most popular remedy wherever it has been introduced. Sold in Salem at the U. H. Lease Drug Co. Store and Broadway Lease Store.—Adv.

Eight Games Scheduled For Salem High In 1931 Grid Season

THE DAY In Sports

FOOTBALL IN SPOTLIGHT
1931 SCHEDULE ARRANGED
DEMPSEY IN YOUNGSTOWN

Football again takes the spotlight in Salem sports with the announcement of the 1931 grid schedule by Salem High's faculty manager, Harold M. Williams. In the arrangement of the schedule relationship is renewed with two old-time rivals, East Liverpool and Niles, and six other interesting battles slated in an attractive menu of grid entertainment. Five after-dark struggles, four of them at Reilly stadium and one at Warren, are booked while altogether, the Quakers play six of eight battles here.

The game with East Liverpool naturally draws the greatest interest for these two schools are undoubtedly two of the leading rivals in Northeastern Ohio. It will be their first clash on the gridiron in three years, the last encounter having been played here in 1928 when Salem won a 7-6 contest. In 16 games played since 1910, Salem has won nine games, lost six while one was tied. At this renewal of combats is being awaited anxiously by fans of both cities.

Salem and Niles haven't played for five years, relations having been suspended after a series of after-game battles occurring in both cities in consecutive seasons. Since 1918 the schools have clashed 13 times, Salem winning eight, losing five and one being tied. In points scored the Quaker Citizens hold a 213-69 edge.

The fact that only eight games are scheduled seems to indicate that Salem High officials are inclined to decrease emphasis placed on the gridiron game. Eleven games were played in both 1929 and 1930 and the pace had a telling effect on the players. A schedule of eight games against such opponents as the Quakers have arranged for next season is sufficient.

Northeastern Ohio has one of its few historic events of outstanding importance Thursday night when "Jack" Dempsey, Manassas mauler who thrilled thousands a few years ago with fistie performances, acts in capacity of third man in the ring in a boxing show slated at Rayen-Wood auditorium in Youngstown. Dempsey will referee the main battle of the card between Eddie Shea, Chicago featherweight of note, and Soldier Dumbroski of Detroit. Dempsey's appearance is the big drawing card of the evening but the entire show is an attractive one showing Johnny Kusie, Jackie Powers, Dick Evans, Mickey Farr, Frankie Bauer and other widely known scrappers in supporting bouts.

Another fan offers an all-time Salem High grid team, the selection being signed, "Veteran Salem High Sport Fan." There is a difference in this team from that selected last week by Joseph Corso but changes are not made in all positions.

The team follows:
END—Samuel Willaman and Robert Campbell.
TACKLES—Lester Older and Russell "Bus" Myers.
CENTER—Fred McCreery.
GUARDS—"Sugar" Logan and Donald Corners.
QUARTERBACKS—Ed Sidinger and Oscar Gray.
HALFBACKS—Twine Seeds and Ed Beck.
FULLBACK—Royal Schiller.

Princeton Ready To Play Harvard Teams

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 10.—Princeton is perfectly willing and ready to renew athletic relations with Harvard in every sport but football, says Dr. Charles W. Kennedy, chairman of the Princeton board of athletic control. "The recent spontaneous and definite expressions of undergraduate opinion of Harvard and Princeton favoring resumption of athletic competition leaves no doubt as to their cordial sincerity," Dr. Kennedy says, "but the undergraduate view at Princeton recognizes that there still exist important differences of policy in football which would militate against resumption that sport at the present time."

Fight Results

BOSTON—Sammy Fuller, Boston, stepped Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., (6).
BIRMINGHAM — Maxie Resnabloom, world light heavyweight champion, and Battling Bino, Birmingham, drew, (10); non-title (newspaper consensus).
PITTSBURGH — Johnny Datto, Cleveland, outpointed Jackie Rodgers, Pittsburgh, (10).
NEW ORLEANS — Tommy Freeman, world welterweight champion, stepped Al Kolber, Fort Worth, Tex., (5), (non-title).
CHICAGO — Joe Sharkey, Albion, Mich., technically knocked out Everett Kelly, Champaign, Ill., (3).
Phil Rice, Chicago, outpointed Patsy Pollock, Watonga, (8).
TORONTO, ONT.—Floyd Hybert, Ohio, outpointed Tommy "Red" Yogan, Toronto, (10).

NEW YORK—An ingenious American invention makes it possible to cut the facets of diamonds mechanically instead of by hand, as has been the custom for centuries. The facets are cut with mathematical accuracy, bringing out the latent brilliancy of the gems as never before.

Niles, East Liverpool Booked By Stonemen; Open With McKinley

Gridiron relationship will be renewed between Salem High school and two of its old-time rivals during the 1931 football season, eight games being scheduled to include combats with East Liverpool and Niles. Faculty Manager Harold M. Williams announced here today.

Six of the games are scheduled at the Quaker home gridiron at Reilly athletic stadium, four to be played at night under the floodlights while one game will be played at night away from home. This latter event will occur at Warren.

The season will open with Canton McKinley bringing its team to this city on Saturday, September 19. On the following Friday night Niles plays here, it being the first grid contest between the two rivals since 1927, when relations were temporarily suspended as a result of a riot occurring after the game. Niles will be played on September 25 with no games being booked on October 2. Warren will be played on Friday night, October 9 following which the Quakers will trek to East Liverpool for their first grid combat with the Potters since 1928. Another open date is observed on October 24.

Three Night Games Here
Three night games will be played here on consecutive Fridays with Wellsville, Youngstown South and Lisbon. Wellsville visits Reilly stadium on October 30. South plays here on November 6 following which Lisbon furnishes opposition on November 13.

The annual Turkey Day duel with Alliance will be played here on Thursday, November 26.

Included in the season's schedule are just the three county games, those with East Liverpool, Lisbon and Wellsville. Akron West, Youngstown East, New Philadelphia and Leontonia do not appear on the schedule. Only three Northeastern Ohio Interscholastic League opponents will be played, Warren, Niles and Alliance.

Attractive Schedule
The layout gives the Quakers an attractive menu of grid entertainment starting with the opening game and running throughout the campaign. All opponents are natural rivals of Salem athletic teams and everyone of the schools furnishes stiff competition for the Quakers in all sports.

The night schedule is especially attractive with Youngstown South, Niles and Wellsville looming as games which will draw greatest gate receipts of the year. The complete schedule follows:

Sept. 19—Canton McKinley here.
Sept. 25—Niles here, (Night).
Oct. 2—Permanently open.
Oct. 9—At Warren, (Night).
Oct. 17—At East Liverpool.
Oct. 24—Permanently open.
Oct. 30—Wellsville here (Night).
Nov. 6—Youngstown South, here, (Night).
November 13—Lisbon, here, (Night).
Thanksgiving day—Alliance here.

YANKEE STARS FAIL TO SIGN

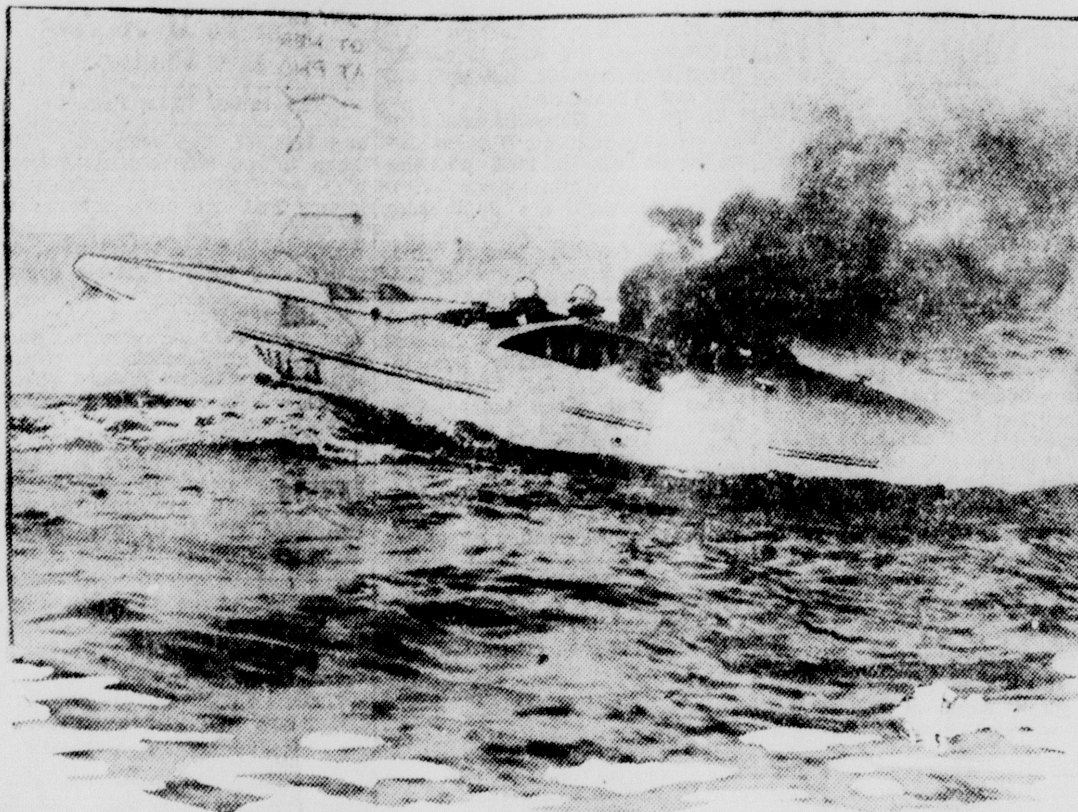

Gehrig, Herb Pennock Among Sixteen Named as Holdouts From New York American Club

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Ed Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees has abandoned his divided silence long enough to say that six Yankees have not yet come to terms.
He declined to reveal who they were but by process of elimination news gatherers decided upon Lou Gehrig and Lynn Lary, infielders; Herb Pennock, Lou McEvoy and Frank Barnes, pitchers; and Fred Walker, outfielder.
The New York Giants, however, still maintain their policy of declining to say who has and who has not signed. The only acknowledged holdout is Bill Terry, clouting first baseman.

Ohio State Opens Track Season Soon

(By United Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 10.—Ohio State's 1931 track team will open its indoor season Saturday, meeting the Indiana trackmen at Bloomington. Indiana has a strong team.
Included on the roster of the Ohio State team are Wilbur Bruce of Steubenville and James Dille of Kenton.

Burning Up the Water

This is not a picture of a fire. It is Lord Wakefield's speedboat, "Miss England II," throwing off smoke and cutting through the placid waters of Lough Neagh, one of the lakes on the River Shannon, Ireland. Kaye Don, famous British speed king, is at the controls as he exceeds 100 miles an hour in an unofficial test.

FRENCH RUNNER LOSES OPENER

Paul Keller's Debut On American Track Fails; Fourth In Race

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 10.—The American debut of Paul Keller, French 800-meter champion, has proved no more of a success than that of his compatriot, Seraphin Martin, world's record holder, at the same distance.

Finishes Fourth
Keller, with no previous experience in running indoors or on an unbanked track, finished fourth in a special 1,000 yards event in the Seton Hall college games here last night.

Lacking knowledge of how to handle himself on the turns where he was badly jostled and paddled in addition by an injury to his right foot, the Frenchman never was a contender in the race which Paul Edwards, Hamilton, Ont., won in the first time of 2:37.9-10. Frank Nordall, New York university freshman, was second and Charlie Thompson of New York, third.

Injures Foot
In an early jam the nail on the big toe of Keller's right foot was ripped off and the Frenchman was limping badly at the finish. The injury was painful but not serious and Keller will go through with the balance of his engagements in this country.

Bill Bruder, Newark A. C. dash man, conquered Ira Singer, New York university, and Leigh Miller of Canada, in all three races of the sprint series. Bernie McCaffery, Holy Cross quarter miler, ran the Waldron 600-yards in 1:14 4-10 to beat Eddie Roll, Newark A. C.

Alliance High Enters Claim To Championship Laurels In District Big Ten Cage Loop

A claim to championship honors in the Northeastern Ohio Interscholastic Athletic Association, otherwise known as the "Big Ten," has been entered by faculty officials at Alliance High school today, the result of the disastrous 36-39 defeat sustained by Salem High school at Warren last week.

Salem Eliminated
Alliance won two consecutive contests last week to continue its league winning streak to five consecutive games while Salem sustained defeat at Warren, a school which previously had dropped out of the league. Whether this game will count in the league standings has not yet been decided but according to averages issued in the Stark county city league today, the defeat has been chalked up against the Quakers, automatically eliminating them from the titular race.

Alliance has only one more league game to play, that with Salem at Salem on Friday, February 20. Salem, on the other hand, has already played seven games, and, including the Alliance contest, has two more to play. Should the Quakers win each of the remaining duels the team's season average would not place it above Alliance after the Warren setback.

Hill Asks Withdrawal
Action on the part of Coach Pierre Hill towards withdrawal of the Trumbull county school from the circuit was prompted by a desire to arrange his athletic schedule without being hampered by affiliation with any district organization. It was also taken after his school, with a strong court squad, had no chance to win the league championship although to date it has only lost one game out of three starts. Alliance and Warren do not clash this season.

Dissatisfaction has been expressed with the league in several member cities because of arrangement of schedules. Salem and Niles each played nine league games; Ravenna eight, Massillon and Wooster seven, New Philly, Dover and Alliance each six, and Warren, Barberton each five.

Action to determine whether the defeat sustained by Salem at Warren shall be counted in the league standings will be taken at a meeting of the league's representatives in March.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
Chicago took a long step in its effort to oust New York as the broadcasting center of America Monday.

Nearly 50 programs, heretofore created in New York and transmitted over NBC's WJZ network, were transferred to the "Wind City" to be produced in NBC's new studios atop merchandise mart.

The change brings the number of programs sent out weekly from the studios to more than 200. According to NBC officials, the action was taken in anticipation of the fact that in 1933, when Chicago holds its World's fair, it will become in reality the general amusement center of the world.

New talent selected from the ranks of entertainers who have picked on Chicago stations will be introduced in many of the programs, the announcement of the transference says.

Sing New Song

Kay Swift, guest composer on the Happy Bakers program over NBC's WEAF chain tonight at 9:30, calculated when she started composing that it would take three years for her first number to reach print. She was right, almost to the day. The number was "Can't We Be Friends." It was included in the musical score of the "First Little Show" and given to Libby Holman as a solo number.

Miss Swift composed the score for the current success, "Fine and Dandy," and she will tell the inside story of the songs in the show during the program.

MOVIES

"BACHELOR FATHER"

At The Grand
Marion Davies is starred in the comedy drama "Bachelor Fathers" now playing at the Grand theatre. Most of the action takes place on the English estate of Sir Basil Winterbottom, where Miss Davies, as a Hogan's Alley waif, takes her place as the baronet's long-lost daughter. In the hilarious complications, she wins the affections of the dashing young barrister as well as the heart of the grumpy old Britisher. She is revealed as an impostor, however, and she shows aboard a trans-Atlantic airplane to escape the disgrace heaped upon her. A crash at the takeoff saves her life and brings her back to the estate, more welcome and loved than before.

This is without any doubt the finest performance Miss Davies has achieved in the sound medium. The role is perfectly suited to her talents as a comedienne of the first order. There are frequent moments, however, when Miss Davies demonstrates her skill at straight acting, a big scene being that in which circumstances would indicate that she is a fraud who is trying to crash in on the baronet's wealth. The star's portrayal in this scene leaves nothing to be desired in the way of finished drama.

"FOLLOW THRU"

At The State
"Follow Thru" now at the State is a musical slice of country club life, rippling with comedy situations and is filmed entirely in technicolor. It has for a back-ground a swanky club where red-haired, Nancy Carroll, runner-up in the women's championship matches, loses her heart to Charles Rogers, wins the envy of Thelma Todd, champion woman golfer, and makes two holes in one by copying the championship and Rogers in one and the same match. The youthful, exuberant theme runs through a series of misunderstandings, serious and otherwise. Eugene Pallette and Jack Haley get mixed up with a lot of lingerie in the women's locker rooms. Zelma O'Neal resorts to a mysterious love perfume to capture and tie Jack Haley.

There's fun galore in "Follow Thru" what, with Zelma O'Neal that lively little lady of "Varsity Drag" fame and her side-kick, the comic Jack Haley, and fat and jolly Eugene Pallette, heading the fun force. And there's excitement too in the big outdoor golf scenes, with woman fighting woman for a man's love.
